Course: HIST 3379x VC 01 – History of Modern Asia

Campus: WBUonline

Term/Session: Fall 1 2020

Instructor: Doctor James Powell

WBU Email Address: The REQUIRED E-Mail for Course Communication is through the Blackboard Course Webpage using the Course E-Mail Link located on the Left-Hand Menu Tool Bar. Prior to the Course Webpage opening, you may contact me at: james.powell@wayland.wbu.edu

Office Hours, Building, and Location: Doctor Powell checks the Bb Course E-Mail daily and will respond to any E-Mail within 48-72 hours. Phone calls are only accepted at pre-arranged appointments since these must be pre-arranged at the Amarillo WBU Campus at the convenience of the Professor, Student, and the Campus operating hours. Other virtual contact means can also be arranged by appointment such as Virtual Chat or Skype which may be better suited for student and Professor whose time zones and work hours make synchronizing times difficult.

Class Meeting Time and Location: WBUonline -- Students should purchase textbooks and receive them prior to the first day of class if the textbooks are not available via Wayland's Automatic eBook program. In addition, students need to log-in, on or before, the first day of class through the WBUonline Campus \(https://wbu.blackboard.com/\). This process will activate their Account within Blackboard in preparation for the First Day of Class. This class is conducted completely online and does NOT require proctors for exams. All Graded Quizzes and Assignments are submitted online through the course website. (See more details under "Attendance" requirements.)

Course Information

Catalog Description: Topical Study: Modern Asia

There is no prerequisite for this course.

Course Outcome Competencies: Upon completion of this course, students will be able to understand and communicate an understanding of the origins and evolution of:

- The persons and events involved in today's East Asian globally influential milieu
- The impact of Western Imperialism upon the birth of modern Japan, China, Taiwan, South Korea and North Korea
- The role of the smaller regional countries in Asia including Vietnam, Malaysia, Indonesia and the city-state of Singapore
- The rise of anti-colonialism in East Asia
- Causes, courses and consequences of World War I and World War II on East Asia
- The origins, development and end of the Cold War in East Asia from 1945-to-the-Present
- How the globalization of the economy impacted the power of individual Asian countries and what this has meant for the strongest and fastest growing of these---The People's Republic of China
- The rise of post-Cold War terrorism and its impact on East Asia through such issues as piracy in the narrow waters of the South China Sea among other regional locales

Attendance Requirements

WBUonline (Virtual Campus)

Students are expected to participate in all required instructional activities in their courses. Online courses are no different in this regard; however, participation must be defined in a different manner. Student "attendance" in an online course is defined as active participation in the course as described in the course syllabus. Instructors in online courses are responsible for providing students with clear instructions for how they are required to participate in the course. Additionally, instructors are responsible for incorporating specific instructional activities within their course and will, at a minimum, have weekly mechanisms for documenting student participation. These mechanisms may include, but are not limited to, participating in a weekly discussion board, submitting/completing assignments in Blackboard, or communicating with the instructor. Students aware of necessary absences must inform the professor with as much advance notice as possible in order to make appropriate arrangements. Any student absent 25 percent or more of the online course, i.e., non-participatory during 2 or more weeks of an 8-week session, may receive an F for that course. Instructors may also file a Report of Unsatisfactory Progress for students with excessive non-participation. Any student who has not actively participated in an online class prior to the census date for any given session is considered a "no-show" and will be administratively withdrawn from the class without record. To be counted as actively participating, it is not sufficient to log in and view the course. The student must be submitting work as described in the course syllabus. Additional attendance and participation policies for each course, as defined by the instructor in the course syllabus, are considered a part of the university's attendance policy.

University Policies

Statement on Plagiarism and Academic Dishonesty: Wayland Baptist University observes a zero tolerance policy regarding academic dishonesty. Per university policy as described in the academic catalog, all cases of academic dishonesty will be reported and second offenses will result in suspension from the university.

Disability Statement: In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA), it is the policy of Wayland Baptist University that no otherwise qualified person with a disability be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subject to discrimination under any educational program or activity in the university. The Coordinator of Counseling Services serves as the coordinator of students with a disability and should be contacted concerning accommodation requests at (806) 291-3765. Documentation of a disability must accompany any request for accommodations.

Student Grade Appeals: Students shall have protection through orderly procedures against prejudices or capricious academic evaluation. A student who believes that he or she has not been held to realistic academic standards, just evaluation procedures, or appropriate grading, may appeal the final grade given in the course by using the student grade appeal process described in the Academic Catalog. Appeals may not be made for advanced placement examinations or course bypass examinations. Appeals are limited to the final course grade, which may be upheld, raised, or lowered at any stage of the appeal process. Any recommendation to lower a course grade must be submitted through the Vice President of Academic Affairs to the Faculty Assembly Grade Appeals Committee for review and approval. The Faculty Assembly Grade Appeals Committee may instruct that the course grade be upheld, raised, or lowered to a more proper evaluation.

Course Requirements and Grading Criteria

The course is based on reading from the book listed in the required textbook section with 3 graded components: Exams, Discussions, and Pre/Post-Tests.

EXAMS:

Students must complete two (2) Non- Proctored Exams taken online. You may use the books or other assigned readings to answer the questions---but NO Outside material from Online sources is allowed unless specifically stated by DR J.

The Exams are given as a Mid-Term and a Final in the following format:

Each Test will consist of two (2) Short Answer responses of roughly 250-words each, not including the footnotes. The key to these, as you probably know, is to provide the Who, What, When, Where, and most importantly, the Why is the subject significant. Then you can select one (1) Essay to write upon, also using the scholarly form with full citations and the Bibliography. Be careful to separate your footnotes, and Bibliographic posts by answer---meaning you will actually have 3-individual parts---with two (2) footnote sections for the Short Answers and one (1) for your Essay. The easiest way is to put your footnotes below each answer as you complete it---then put a Bibliography header (centered) at the end for each Short Answer and your Essay.

The two Exams are scheduled to open at 1200 Hours (12:00-Noon) CDT and will stay open for roughly four (4) days depending on the calendar. Once open at 1200 Hours the Exam remains available until the evening of the 4th day---closing at 2355/11:55 p.m. (just before Midnight) Central Daylight Time. This format allows students 84 hours over a four (4) day window in which to take each of these two major Exams. There is no set-time limit for you to complete the Test once you open it, other than the obvious 4-day window. But assure that you have guaranteed yourself enough time, with no distractions to complete the Exams since you MAY NOT pause them once you begin. Be certain that you have your book close at hand prior to opening the Exams and that no weather issues appear to threaten your power or internet connection. Our city, for example, is about to endure 7-days of high temperatures that exceed 100 degrees, with numerous records likely being broken. This could endanger our power supply according to Xcel Energy, as could a rare---and I really mean rare here---Thunderstorm. Please keep in mind what might happen with the weather and plan accordingly since I am very limited on options as soon as you start that Exam. Each of these major Exams is worth 25% of your class average---or a total of 50% for the two combined grades.

WBU requires that all Mid-Term and Final Exam submissions MUST be sent through the SafeAssign tool and checked for plagiarism. This course requires a SafeAssign score of 20% or less for any Non-Proctored Assignment to be accepted. A rating of 40% or greater reflects blatant plagiarism, meaning a student relied upon someone else for almost one-half of their work. Another mistake that is often made regarding plagiarism is what is known as "Cobbling." This is where someone strings together either the ideas of---or actual quotes from---another person's work. Even if you provide citations for all of it---the writer has still committed a form of plagiarism. It is very easy to do this---so be cautious. Your work needs to be original---not just a re-worded repetition of what is already out in the literature. I find that reading things out-loud prior to posting helps me to avoid not only grammatical errors---but to find that I have used the work of some other scholar without realizing that it crept into my own writing.

BE FOREWARNED ---The current version of SafeAssign will only accept .doc, .docx, and .pdf files at sizes of 10 MB or less. No Google or Apple documents are accepted by the Blackboard Tool (save as a pdf). ALSO---The SafeAssign Link allows only ONE upload attempt so your EXAM must be created and SENT as ONE complete document (including a Cover Sheet, Exam and Bibliography all together) using the SafeAssign Link! REMEMBER, once you hit that "Submit" button to upload and send your Exam, there is no going back -- so please, please double-check yourself and be certain you have selected the correct file format prior to sending your Exam! Students needing assistance saving or uploading their Exam on the SafeAssign Link should contact the WBUonline Help Desk PRIOR to making their one attempt with the provided link on the left-hand menu on the Course Webpage.

DISCUSSIONS:

WBU requires that students participate in the course interactively on a regular basis. I have opted to have everyone engage in Two (2) separate Discussions that are each divided into two-parts. The question options for each of the Discussions will be posted under the Discussion Forum Link on the left-side Toolbar and taken from the readings assigned for that portion of the course. Note: you will need to scroll down on the page as the course progresses to find the new assignment to open. There will be One (1) Discussion assignment prior to taking the Mid-Term Exam, and the Second will cover material read for the Final Exam.

Each person will provide Two (2) submissions for each of the listed Discussions. The first one is labeled as your "Long Answer" posting, of approximately 500 words in-length. Students should write in a thoughtful and in-depth fashion using the formal rules of grammar and scholarly construction including a Cover Sheet, footnotes and a Bibliography. The rules for answering Discussion questions are located at the top of the Discussion Forum and in the Discussion Rules (under the Course Info Link then to Course Policies). This is part-one of your Discussion response.

Next you must select a Long Answer post that interests you written by one of your classmates, and after a careful reading, submit a "Commentary" on their work that is about 300-words long. This post also needs footnotes, likely addressing something specific found in the answer you are critiquing.

Remember the rules of civility apply, and that your own Long Answer post will probably be chosen for assessment too. So, make your analysis of your classmate's Long Answer be thoughtful and placed in the proper context of this class. The idea here is to learn from each other, and to practice the art of assessing both the writing and the research of others which becomes more critical as you advance in your education--in any field of study.

The window for all Long Answer posts on both Discussions will open on a Friday at 0800 (8:00 am) Central Daylight Time and remain open for six (6) days, closing at 2355 (11:55 pm) Central Daylight Time on the following Wednesday. The dates for these are listed under the Course Schedule Link on the Toolbar. Waiting until the last minute is unfair to those who need/want time to compose in-depth Commentaries, so treat your classmates as you wish to be treated. The Commentary portion of this assignment must be posted for grading no later than 24-hours following the closure for the Long Answer posts. I realize that you will have very little time to read a colleague's Long Answer if it is posted at the last minute---but the new 8-week format is placing enormous time pressures on us all. I could have reduced the number of assignments thus giving you more time to complete those required, however, that would increase the point-value of those which remained and experience has taught me that everyone benefits from having at least four (4) scores to average out for a class grade. So please keep reading each Long Answer post as they come up once the window opens---and if you find one you like---then create and submit your Commentary (worth 7%) immediately. Recall how the two-part Discussion works. Your own Long Answer (worth 13%) is due No Later than 2355/11:55pm and your Commentary (assessment worth 7%) of a classmate's Long Answer posting is due within 24-hours after the Long Answer window closes---so the next night just before Midnight. In total, each Discussion is worth 20% and combined both Discussion Assignments account for 40% of your Final Course Average.

PRE/POST-TESTS:

The WBU History Department now requires that all students complete both a Pre-Test and Post-Test assignment to assess their knowledge of history. The dates for these are found under the Course Schedule Link, and the actual Quizzes are found under the Exams Link. Remember, students MUST complete BOTH to earn the 100 points or 10% of their Final Course Grade for this Assignment. Completing only ONE will earn ZERO points.

The Pre- and Post-Test are participation ONLY credit – meaning your actual score on the Quiz is not important – it is your participation in BOTH the Pre and Post Tests that earn the 100 points and 10% of the Final Course Grade. However, everyone should attempt to do their best on these Tests to provide the clearest results for the History Department, which is engaged in the larger effort to improve the quality of social studies education in America. Most educational reform efforts over the past several decades have focused upon STEM areas, but this has led to a significant decrease in vital knowledge about social studies in a rapidly changing (and often very hostile) world. This is particularly important for the post-9/11 generation and a baseline understanding of what a bright College Freshman knows or learns over a term is essential for proper improvements to be made.

METHOD OF DETERMING COURSE GRADE:

Course grades will be determined by the student's total accumulated average. As stated, the TWO (2) major Exams (the Mid-Term and Final) comprise a total of 50% of your course grade. The TWO (2) Discussions (with 2-parts in each one) are another 40% of your average (20% for each Discussion). The last portion is the WBU mandated Pre- and Post-Test of which BOTH MUST be completed to earn the 10% of the course grade.

There is NO Make-Ups or Extra Credit offered--so Please Do Not Ask. This Syllabus is a Contract between the student and professor and alterations are not allowed. I have made every effort to help busy students succeed and have found during my 3-decades of University teaching that Make-Up assignments are just more work for an already over-stressed individual who is behind in not just my class---but usually others as well. Trying to do academically rigorous Make-Up assignments while keeping up with current tests or writing projects adds more strain since those Due Dates just keep coming. So, I have opted to limit the number of assignments, spreading them out as much as WBU's NEW 8-week terms will allow (I am one of the old geezers who earned my 4 degrees in 16-week semesters). I hope that helps explain why there are no Make-Ups--Cool?

To view your Grades, click on the "My Grades" Link within the Course Webpage. Manually calculate your Grade or Current Average using the Course Syllabus and/or see the "Need Your Average?" Link for assistance.

Mid-Term and Final Exams	50%
Discussion Posts (2 parts for each)	40%
Pre and Post Test (BOTH MUST be completed for credit)	10%

The University has a standard grade scale:

A = 90-100, B = 80-89, C = 70-79, D = 60-69, F= below 60, W = Withdrawal, WP = withdrew passing, WF = withdrew failing, I = incomplete. An incomplete may be given within the last two weeks of a long term, within the last week of an 8-week session, or within the last two days of a microterm to a student who is passing, but has not completed a term paper, examination, or other required work for reasons beyond the student's control. A grade of "incomplete" is changed if the work required is completed prior to the last day of the next long 16-week term or 8-week session, unless the instructor designates an earlier date for completion. If the work is not completed by the appropriate date, the I is converted to an F.

Additional Information

Course Description: Is the global community living in a Pacific Ocean---and thus an Asia oriented Century? Many experts argue this is the case. President Barak Obama was among the first modern American leaders to insist that U.S. foreign policy must "pivot to the Pacific" and by default Asia. Despite the events since 1990 which redirected the world's attention toward the Middle East or Central Asia, in larger geopolitical terms is the behavior and impact of modern Japan, China, and both North and South Korea that will likely shape most of the 21st Century's history. Thus it is vital that Americans understand how these seemingly far-away nations developed as they did, first in reaction to Colonial domination by both Europe and the United States, then during the Japanese invasions and the horrors of World War II, and the post-WWII era. So the course explores the birth of modern Japan, placing emphasis upon the Meiji Restoration, the influence of the Western powers, the colonial model the Japanese tried to emulate and how it led to the horror of WWII in the Pacific. Next is the enigma of China, and how this once regional power fragmented into a nation dominated by outsiders, then warlords (think gangs) whose failure to lead caused a civil war between two prominent leaders, Mao Zedong and ultimately Chiang Kai-shek. Their conflict was briefly suspended during the 1930s and 1940s as both set aside their goals to join in defeating the common enemy of Japan. Ironically, the US and other Western allies discovered that it was the Communists under Mao who provided the most help, while Chiang tended to skim much of the monetary and military aid for himself in preparation for resuming the civil war with an advantage. The end of WWII brought about the division of the often conquered and occupied nation of Korea, a land squeezed between major powers on all sides for centuries. The Korean Peninsula became a Cold War hot spot temporarily divided along the 38th Parallel by the victors of WWII, only to become the scene of the first post-WWII case of "Limited War" between 1950 and 1953, in which the existence of nuclear weapons restricted the chances for total victory by any side. The decision to cease hostilities and stabilize the country along the previously irrelevant 38th Parallel has led to the United States keeping tens-of-thousands of troops in that region from 1953 to the present. The post-WWII years will reveal why the United States opted to intervene in the Korean civil war, fighting there from 1950-1953 with the loss of roughly 35,000 troops in combat and why it remains so critical today. Japan benefitted from the Cold War need of the US to have a base in East Asia, thus allowing for a Pacific version of the Marshall Plan to rebuild war-ravaged Japan. The US decision to support Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Party in the Chinese Civil War despite warnings to the contrary from key US military leaders in the region ended with the collapse of the Nationalists, and their retreat to the island of Formosa, which they quickly renamed Taiwan. It also remains a regional hot spot which could provoke a showdown between the US and China if care is not exercised by all sides. This will take us to the Mid-Term Exam and your essays there should emphasize the events just described using the appropriate readings.

The 2nd part of the class will explore how the period from the 1950s to the present shaped events in these same countries, with special emphasis on the Cold War politics here at home, and the so-called "wars by proxy" waged in places like Vietnam, Malaysia, Cambodia and so on. Events such as the Japanese Economic Miracle ignited by the huge American investment in rebuilding post-WWII Japan just as happened in Europe will be examined along with why it ended in the mid-1990s with the so-called Asian Flu. The Chinese story is one influenced by a gambler's diplomacy when Richard Nixon visited Beijing in February 1972 and began opening China to the West. Today much of the globe is heavily dependent upon Chinese investment capital, and the Chinese have learned to use their new economic power to pressure the West into sharing technological advances helping them to develop a powerful military which, in turn, has stimulated a Chinese version of imperialism that some believe will lead to a war with the US. China is even constructing man-made islands to help bolster their claims to ever larger areas of the Pacific, so it is important to understand why China sees the outside world the way they do--and the readings should help you do so. The issue of how to handle the two Koreas is equally important and our course will emphasize how the US might handle the North's creation of nuclear capability and the means to deliver such weapons not only onto the soil of important allies like Japan, but to the US itself. Recent border clashes between North and South Korea appear on the news---although often buried in COVID-19 stories. Your Last Exam will have essays that focus on these issues.

The course will also rely upon the use of Discussions, with me providing choices for each of the two sections of the class, and each student must post a lengthy Discussion Essay for the first and second half of the course on the topic they select from my list, and the class will engage along with me in debating/discussing each of these posts. Remember, you must answer two of these, with one coming from each part of the class, and the Instructions for them will be explained below. Essentially you are telling me what you have learned about key issues from each of the two sections of the course, and then we as a group will discuss these events in some detail. Note that the rules require the use of an Essay format, including a Cover Sheet, citations from the readings and Primary sources, with a Bibliography included at the end. The Turabian format of Notes/Bibliography, NOT the Author/Date parenthetical style commonly used in Undergraduate courses, is mandated by the WBU History Department. So, your class average will come from the two major essay-style exams, which are open-book and not timed, along with two Discussions posts one from each half of the course. This is as close as possible to the Socratic Method we normally use for in-person courses at this level, and I hope you will feel comfortable writing as if we were talking in the same room. Just remember, that everything you submit, since these are all done at home with open-books and no time limits other than due dates---you MUST be careful to assure that you include the use of both Primary and Secondary sources and the correct Turabian form of citation.

Participation: Students need to log into the Course Homepage regularly, at minimum of every 48-hours looking at the Announcements Page for updates or alterations to remain informed on any issues that arise. Please check your Course E-Mail within the Course Homepage if you sent me a question to assure that you see my response in a timely manner. You should also watch for any WBU announcement posted for the entire class---which I normally will put up onto the Announcements Page---but hey---you never know and I might forget (-: It is the responsibility of each student to keep track of their assignments and thus it is essential for everyone to have daily access to a computer and a reliable Internet connection to succeed in this course. Technical problems with a Student's computer or Internet provider are not valid excuses to miss Assignments, Exams, or other Due Dates. Students should plan in advance to have access to a back-up computer at a family member's home, friend's location, local school, or local city library etc. If a technical problem does occur, students should immediately send an E-Mail to the 24-Hour WBUonline Help Desk, where specialists in this technology can provide help. You must also send a note to your Professor via the Course Homepage explaining the difficulty and the Date, Time and Steps taken to solve the issue. Should the problem not be addressed by the Help Desk, they will provide the Professor with a detailed report of ALL actions taken and the Professor will then decide if the Student can be allowed to complete the work in another fashion.

Instructor's Policy on Academic Dishonesty: Occasionally a few students will attempt to cheat or plagiarize. Students caught will receive a grade of F (0 points) for that assignment. Additionally, such students may receive a grade of F for the Course and may be suspended from the College (penalties which become a permanent part of a penalized student's record and cannot be eliminated by the repeat-option). If you are unsure about the definition of plagiarism, see the links available to Students or visit with your Professor.

Plagiarism includes, but is not limited to:

- downloading a free or purchased paper
- copying an article from the web or electronic database
- translating a foreign web article into English
- copy a paper from a local source
- cobbling -- cutting and pasting to create a paper from several sources (including web sites) even if properly cited
- excessive quoting (more than 20% even if properly cited)
- quoting less than all the words copied
- changing some words but copying whole phrases
- paraphrasing without attribution
- summarizing without attribution
- faking a citation
- recycling work from a previous or current course, whether your own work or another student's work.

Review the Plagiarism Handouts located on the "Course Info" Link on the Course Webpage.

Choosing Solid Scholarly Sources for Historical Research: Students often search for additional information about historical events to supplement their understanding of the material in preparation for essays, discussions, and even Graded Quizzes. To correctly interpret historical issues requires an accurate knowledge of the facts, so you can also consult secondary sources such as the work of other historians. Students are, however, STRONGLY cautioned to choose these extra sources, particularly Internet sites, with care. Websites, such as Wikipedia or Yahoo, DO NOT necessarily contain reliable facts, documentation, or interpretations, and therefore, should not be used in a college course, without other means of corroboration. NEVER, cite these websites as official documentation even if you use them for a "Quickie" look at what they say about some topic. Remember that websites like Wikipedia even post disclaimers, informing users that their material may or may not be valid Wikipedia Disclaimer \(http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Wikipedia:Disclaimers\). Students should, instead, choose sources from the WBU Virtual Library such a History Cooperative, JSTOR, or other refereed journals. For websites, learners should select places where the author can be identified as a scholar, historian, or other knowledgeable person. Such examples would include websites ending in .edu or .org. Websites helpful to students in this course already examined by the Professor are available via the "Web Resources" link through the Course Homepage. Use of Wikipedia, Yahoo, Twitter, ANY Encyclopedias, Dictionaries, or so-called "Popular History" websites (like History.com or the .net one) or any similar websites as sources for a graduate-level assignment will receive a letter-grade deduction (generally this means a minimum of a 10-point loss) for every infraction. If you are in-doubt write to DR J and ask for confirmation about the scholarly nature of the site/source in question.

Additional Course Suggestions/Requirements:

- Skipping is a self-inflicted punishment. Exams and Due Dates missed may NOT be made up and will result in a zero (0) for the assignment. All written assignments must be turned in on time. Any and all late assignments will be penalized a full letter grade for each 24-hour period they are past due.
- Computer failures are not excused. There is a broad window in which you may choose to take your two Tests, but students suffering any technology failure not caused by either Wayland Baptist University or by a system-wide crash such as found in a thunderstorm are not excused---so have a backup site in the event you suffer such a failure---and hit the "Save" button every few minutes while doing your work to be able to salvage most of it in case of disaster. Think of us "old codgers" who had early model computers---and no kidding I kept my physical documents in our Dryer while traveling to try to save them in case of a storm or fire. But way back then---these documents were hard to get---and cost 0.25 cents per page---and I had literally over one-thousand pages of material that are still kept in plastic containers in my attic. So please be sure you continually back-up your assignments, whether it is one of the Exams or your Discussion as you work, so that if a failure occurs you can take a Flash-Drive or whatever with you to your fallback site. Remember, too that the two Exams and Discussions must be submitted electronically through the SafeAssign tool per WBU regulations.

- Student Responsibilities and Conduct: "The work you will do in this course is subject to the Student Honor Code. The Honor Code is a commitment to the highest degree of ethical integrity in academic conduct, a commitment that, individually and collectively, the students of Wayland Baptist University will not lie, cheat, or plagiarize to gain an academic advantage over fellow students or avoid academic requirements." The full text of the Student Code of Honor can be found at http://www.wbu.edu/student\_life/student\_handbook/. All violations of this code will be punished with all the severity permitted by the Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities. Students caught cheating or plagiarizing will be at the very least failed for the entire course.
- Students MUST submit all Assignments electronically through the SafeAssign link per the Instructions on the Course Website and no Assignment will be accepted in any other form as mandated by University and Course Syllabus rules.

Etiquette: The study of history is important and deserves respect from both the Professor and from Students. Everyone has an obligation to cultivate an environment for learning that enhances the ability to pursue the shared interest in history. Respect for one another and for their ideas and values are essential for a strong community and for us to interact in the way necessary to fully understand the story of mankind---which is what the study of history is really all about anyway. Respectful students bring a strong work ethic to the course and are expected to log-on to the class regularly, be prepared for each class, and be attentive to discussions and online chats. A shared respect for one another is essential to the academic integrity and a comfortable learning environment. Everyone must do their part to maintain a climate of openness and civility that encourages and honors intellectual achievement. If you need to review the standard for Net Etiquette rules, see the Netiquette Rules for more information.

Teaching & Learning Strategy: The class is approached as an on-line instruction tool to learn about a historical topic in-depth. The course is designed to be completed during the NEW fast-paced 8-week term. A student should expect to schedule, on average, approximately 20-25 hours per week to accomplish the assignments required in this course and reading material of 200-300 pages per week. It is recommended for the student to block out time in your day planner every day for completing reading, reviewing Internet sources, and course work, just as you would do if you were on campus. Remember, it is Graduate School, and without a face-to-face environment, you shoulder a heavier burden. But I am always here to help.

This course stresses interaction between the students emphasizing their ability to teach themselves in a form known as the Socratic Method. The class is designed with textbook readings and supportive readings and primary documents on Internet sites to support the historical material. Students should view and/or print off the class syllabus and calendar regularly to keep track of assignments. In addition, students should regularly check their course e-mail for notices about any changes in the course or content materials. Participation in this course is crucial to success.

Since this course is offered as an online class, individualized learning is the key. Your ability to read the assigned material and learn on your own to identify major theses and link material together into a comprehensive understanding. Doctor Powell is available by email, and chat room to discuss in-depth any material you do not understand or struggle with, but the burden of learning falls primarily upon the individual student.

Copyright of courses and course presentations are owned by the professor just as in the case of traditional course materials such as books or articles.

Where do I Begin?: Go to the Course Webpage on WBUonline (Blackboard) and select the "Course Info" Link:

--Print out/or save a copy of the Course Syllabus for the Term to keep handy for referral.

--Print out the Course Schedule from the "Course Schedule" Link and post somewhere prominent. Put the dates in your smart phone calendar.

--Review and be familiar with ALL Course Policies and Graded Assignments.

**Changes or adjustments in Course Material, Course Schedule, or other parts of this Course Syllabus may be made during the Term if circumstances warrant.

Are there Proctored Exams or not?: No proctor is necessary as all Exams are completed Online. Tests are scheduled on the calendar to begin at 1200/12:00 p.m. Noon on the date listed (usually Friday) and ending at 2355/11:55 p.m. Midnight (usually Monday) per the calendar. Some general thoughts on taking these Online Exams are in order. First, read the Instructions carefully. I have had students who overlooked the requirements by failing to read the Instructions on the Exams and thus devastated their grade. Next, you must treat this as if it was being taken in a classroom setting, with no outside support being used. I do not mind if you refer to the textbooks or any of your notes or research but avoid trying to "look-up" the answers and be especially WARY of plagiarizing what you are reading from the books as you take an Exam. That is really easy to do, so take your time, think through the question, glance at anything you need to refresh in your memory, and then calmly sit down and type a response that addresses each item that is mentioned in the original question. Let the questions guide your answers is another way to think of it. NEVER, try to take an Exam if Thunderstorms/Snowstorms are in the area or if you are expecting company or might have any other distraction enter into the "quiet zone" you have set up for this Exam. For your own sake, I would not answer your door, turn off all telephones, banish your spouse, children or significant others while testing, and focus entirely upon the Exam so that you will submit your best work. Do not---as a certain Professor did a few years ago while working on the computer in another room---leave the Television on nearby broadcasting anything---like a certain NCAA Basketball Championship Final Four game in which his alma-mater, and former employer were playing!! To say that this unnamed Professor was constantly distracted is an understatement and his team lost to a University from a state where they make Cheese anyway! Focus is the key.

Submission of ALL Assignments: Students MUST submit ALL Assignments and Exams/Quizzes electronically per the appropriate Instructions on the Course Website and no Assignments will be accepted in any other form as mandated by University and Course Syllabus rules.

Computer Requirements – Have a Back-up Plan: Regular log-on is required for satisfactory achievement. Therefore, it is the responsibility of the student to keep track of their assignments. Students must have regular access to a computer and a reliable Internet connection to enroll in this course. I repeat, these are minimum requirements for all students in every online course. Technical problems are not an excuse to miss a posted Graded Exam or other assignment Due Date. Students should plan ahead to have all work submitted earlier than the last Due Date in the event of a computer malfunction or other disruption and everyone should also have access to a back-up -- a computer at a family member's home, friend's location, local school, local city library, tablet or smart phone with the Bb App -- to meet all assignment dates. It is strongly recommended to download the Student Blackboard Mobile App for your Smart Phone or tablet to access the Course when Wi-fi is down, Internet is unavailable, a computer crashes, students are not a home, etc. Many learners use this App to successfully interact in the Course as well as upload and/or complete Assignments. This is one of the trade-offs for the convenience of a Virtual class. When technical problems occur, students need to contact the WBUonline Help Desk for assistance immediately. They are open 24/7 via Chat, E-mail or by telephone.
