ATTENDANCE REQUIREMENTS:

- Attendance for online courses is defined fully in the university catalog.
- Students are expected to participate in all required instructional activities in their courses.
- Student “attendance” in an online course is defined as active participation in the course as described in the course syllabus (completing weekly assignments).
- Students aware of necessary absences must inform the professor with as much advance notice as possible in order to make appropriate arrangements.
- Any student absent 25 percent or more of the online course, i.e., non-participatory during 2 or more weeks of an 8 week term, may receive an F for that course.
- Any student who has not actively participated in an online class prior to the census date for any given session is considered a “no-show” and will be administratively withdrawn from the class without record. To be counted as actively participating, it is not sufficient to log in and view the course. The student must be submitting work as described in the course syllabus.
- A student with excessive non-participation may also have a Predict Report filed with student’s WBU email and appropriate administrative personnel.

STATEMENT ON PLAGIARISM & ACADEMIC DISHONESTY:

Wayland Baptist University observes a zero tolerance policy regarding academic dishonesty. Per university policy as described in the academic catalog, all cases of academic dishonesty will be reported and second offenses will result in suspension from the university.

DISABILITY STATEMENT:

In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA), it is the policy of Wayland Baptist University that no otherwise qualified person with a disability be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subject to discrimination under any educational program or activity in the university. The Coordinator of Counseling Services serves as the coordinator of students with a disability and should be contacted concerning accommodation requests at (806) 291-3765. Documentation of a disability must accompany any request for accommodations.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS and GRADING CRITERIA:

1. Blackboard Scavenger Hunt. The hunt is designed to help familiarize you with the essential features of Blackboard. Complete by Wednesday of Week 1 (3rd day of class). 1 point will be deducted each day for late submissions.
2. Video Lectures. Students will watch video lectures each week. Lectures will include references to the text that students should review as part of the lecture. Students will take a weekly quiz after video/readings. Some handouts are provided to assist with note-taking, but students should also take personal notes over the lectures and readings. These notes are essential to prepare for the weekly reading quiz and the final exam. Students may use the handouts and their notes for the weekly quiz.
3. Assigned Readings. Lectures will reference essential readings. These should be completed as referenced in the video lectures for context.
4. Weekly Quizzes. After completing the video lectures and readings, students will take a weekly quiz. Students may use provided handouts and personal notes on the weekly quiz.
5. Discussion Boards. Students are expected to respond to weekly topics assigned by the instructor in a thoughtful, academic manner. These questions are reflective in nature and intended to encourage thought about the video lectures and readings as well as to facilitate dialogue on these topics. Initial posts are due by the end of the assigned week. Discussion with classmates continues through the first part of the following week.

Students should engage in robust discussions with their classmates about posts on discussion boards. This is a minimal expectation of two substantive responses per week. These interactions are due by Wednesday of the week following the initial posts. All discussion posts should strive to build community and enhance the learning process.

Note: Because the university classroom is a place designed for the free exchange of ideas, we will frequently encounter the opinions of others which may seem novel and, occasionally, outlandish. We should show respect for one another in all circumstances. Part of the learning experience will be the opportunity to hear other opinions and/or interpretations of the assigned readings. Therefore, we should show respect for one another by exhibiting patience and courtesy. Persistent belligerence of another's views will lower your class participation grade.

6. Cultural Backgrounds Journal. Each week, you will read at least two articles regarding the historical background of the Old Testament from the textbook and post a reflective journal entry for each that discusses how the reading helps you better understand the culture of the Old Testament and/or the assigned readings. Detailed instructions are posted in the Course Info section of Blackboard.

7. Final Exam. The final exam is comprehensive. Questions will be multiple choice, true/false, matching, and short answer/fill in the blank. The exams will cover material from the video lectures and assigned readings. The exam is closed book, closed notes. It may be difficult if you do not study and prepare for it throughout the term.

Note: The exam will be proctored (monitored). The student is responsible to secure an approved proctor following WBUonline process. (WBU testing sites do not require WBUonline staff approval.) Online remote proctoring is an option, if time or location hinders other approved testing venues.

Practice Quizzes: The exam may be hard if you do not take good notes and have strong study skills. Each week, however, practice questions will be posted on Blackboard for the upcoming exam. These questions are related to the actual questions that will be on the exam. (The content is the same, although the question itself may appear in a different form on the exam.) Practice quizzes are not graded. They are only for personal preparation for exams. (The quizzes are visible in the grade center and may show a “grade” after you take them, but these grades are visible only so you can see your answers and level of success on the practice quiz.) The practice quizzes are provided to help you prepare for the exam. Students who utilize practice quizzes on an ongoing, weekly basis frequently report these significantly help their exam score! If students do not know the answer to a practice question, they have the benefit to “fast-forward” a video lecture to the precise section to re-listen and correct their notes for exam preparation. (Face-to-face students do not have this opportunity, so please utilize it.)

8. Community Development (extra credit). It is important in this class to create a learning community to encourage active learning and enhance the online experience. As stated above, students should engage in robust discussions with their classmates about posts on discussion boards. If a student’s grade is on the border between two grades, overall interaction with classmates and instructor will be evaluated. In addition to responding to classmates’ posts on weekly assigned discussion topics, there is a weekly thread entitled “anything else?” where students can ask questions about issues in the reading they didn’t find addressed in the lectures or topics they would like to discuss about the readings/lectures. There are also a number of non-point discussion boards (prayer requests, study halls for quizzes) intended to encourage community. Other means to develop community that will be considered for borderline grades are the content posted to students’ wiki page, whether the student created an avatar and completed other scavenger hunt assignments, and utilized the practice quizzes.

OBSERVATION AND INVITATION

This is an academic class which will explore the historical background and literary features of the Old Testament. The Christian belief about the Bible, however, is that it is intended to speak God's word to the reader about her or his own life circumstances. Therefore, if you ever have questions about how the Bible readings apply to your own life or wish to talk about your personal, spiritual life in a format other than the classroom, I would be happy to visit with you by email, instant messaging, or phone.

CONFESSIONAL STATEMENT

It is the instructor's belief that the Bible is written exactly the way God intended for it to be written. Further, the instructor holds to the Baptist view of religious liberty for all—including his students. (In case you were not aware, the Baptists of Virginia played a significant role in the establishment of religious freedom in the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution.)

The liberty I contend for, is more than toleration. The very idea of toleration, is despicable; it supposes that some have a pre-eminence above the rest, to grant indulgence; whereas, all should be equally free, Jews, Turks [i.e., Muslims], Pagans and Christians. Test oaths and established creeds should be avoided as the worst of evils.

—Virginia Baptist and First Amendment advocate John Leland; quoted in Baptist Ways by Bill Leonard [2003], pp. 130-31)
