Attendance Requirements

WBUonline

Students are expected to participate in all required instructional activities in their courses. Online courses are no different in this regard; however, participation must be defined in a different manner. Student “attendance” in an online course is defined as active participation in the course as described in the course syllabus. Instructors in online courses are responsible for providing students with clear instructions for how they are required to participate in the course. Additionally, instructors are responsible for incorporating specific instructional activities within their course and will, at a minimum, have weekly mechanisms for documenting student participation. These mechanisms may include, but are not limited to, participating in a weekly discussion board, submitting/completing assignments in Blackboard, or communicating with the instructor. Students aware of necessary absences must inform the professor with as much advance notice as possible in order to make appropriate arrangements. Any student absent 25 percent or more of the online course, i.e., non-participatory during 2 or more weeks of an 8-week session, may receive an F for that course. Instructors may also file a Report of Unsatisfactory Progress for students with excessive non-participation. Any student who has not actively participated in an online class prior to the census date for any given session is considered a “no-show” and will be administratively withdrawn from the class without record. To be counted as actively participating, it is not sufficient to log in and view the course. The student must be submitting work as described in the course syllabus. Additional attendance and participation policies for each course, as defined by the instructor in the course syllabus, are considered a part of the university’s attendance policy.

University Policies

Statement on Plagiarism and Academic Dishonesty: Wayland Baptist University observes a zero tolerance policy regarding academic dishonesty. Per university policy as described in the academic catalog, all cases of academic dishonesty will be reported and second offenses will result in suspension from the university.

Disability Statement: In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA), it is the policy of Wayland Baptist University that no otherwise qualified person with a disability be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subject to discrimination under any educational program or activity in the university. The Disability Services Coordinator and Academic Coach serves as the coordinator of students with disabilities and must be contacted concerning accommodation requests (office (806) 291-1057. Documentation of a disability must accompany any request for accommodations.

Accessibility issues with content in WBUonline courses or in Blackboard should be addressed to the WBU accessibility coordinator, Dr. Rick Hammer, hammerr@wbu.edu or call (806) 292-9150.

Course Requirements and Grading Criteria

Students will be evaluated based on their performance in the following assignments: weekly discussion questions (DQs); 2 journal article reviews; 1 diversity paper; and the APA Tutorial. All papers and DQ responses must be written in accordance with the American Psychological Association (APA) standards. To ensure that you can communicate with me, you will be required to review the syllabus and email me from your Wayland email address. The email should state that you are fulfilling the email assignment and that you have read and understood the syllabus/course outline.

Introduction: Post an introduction by Wednesday of week 1.

Discussion Questions (DQs):

Each weekly DQ set will be worth 50 points. An additional 25 points each, max of 50 (meaning you must respond to at least two other students), will be awarded for each substantive response given to other students' original postings to the discussion questions; that is, students' answers to the weekly questions. The total possible points you can earn per week is 100. Providing one sentence responses to my questions, answering the discussion questions at the last minute, and/or answering at the week's start and not returning to the discussion board will earn you minimal points. The discussion board is intended to ask questions, debate a theory's merit, and challenge one another's ideas to learn from one another. You must respond to discussion questions during their week of application to receive credit. In other words, if you answer Week 1's discussion questions during Week 2, you do not receive any credit for Week 1. For our purposes, the week will begin on Monday and end on Sunday. Ensure your responses are written in accordance with APA standards. Twenty points will be deducted if sources are not properly cited. As graduate students, you will also be required to support your DQ responses with journal articles, government reports, or articles from think tanks and professional organizations. Failing to provide support from a scholarly source will result in a deduction of an additional twenty points.

Responses to discussion questions are to be submitted no later than 11:59 pm CST on Thursdays. DQ answers posted after Thursday will incur a 25-point deduction.

Responses to students' original postings (their answers to the DQs) must be posted no later than 11:59 pm CST on Sundays to receive credit.

Note: While there is no specific word limit, an initial post of 300 words should be long enough to adequately address the question and issues presented. Your initial post must be insightful, thorough, and show an understanding of the issues. Your responses to your classmates' initial posts should identify portions of the post you agree/disagree with and explain why. Additionally, your responses should supplement, contradict, question, or further discussion on the pertinent subject area. All posts should be substantiated by examples from the textbook, journal articles, and/or scholarly websites such as from professional organizations. Do not forget to cite your sources! It is also expected that all posts reflect critical thinking and good grammar.

Journal Article Reviews:

On specific weeks, students are to find and critique a journal article related to this course. The article can apply to the subject matter discussed for a given week or a topic of interest to you related to this class. The article must be from a scholarly, peer-reviewed academic journal. Peer-reviewed means the article has been examined by other experts in the respective field of the article's author(s). Articles found on .com or corporate websites are not typically peer-reviewed and should be avoided.

For this assignment, provide a pdf copy for classmate review and specify the article's relevance to this course plus your interest in that article's topic. Points are awarded by the following criteria: 25 points for providing a copy of your specific journal article, 25 points for how well you evaluate the article's subject matter relevant to the course, and 25 points per response to at least two other students' articles. If you do not participate in the journal article review during the week it is assigned, you will not receive credit. Additionally, to ensure students have time to respond, all articles must be submitted by 11:59 pm CST on Fridays; submitting after Friday incurs a 25-point deduction; failing to adhere to the above conditions results in a deduction of points. Once again, a 300-word count response reviewing the article is appropriate.

Note: Only journal articles will be accepted. Responses to students' articles must be posted no later than 11:59 pm CST Sundays on the weeks assigned. Be sure you properly cite your journal article – in the text of your response and in the reference list – in accordance with APA writing standards. Twenty points will be deducted if articles are not properly cited. Do not add your journal article review as an attachment. Type directly into the textbox. Submitting the review as an attachment will result in a deduction of 20 points.

Research Paper – Diversity Improvement: (Due at the end of week eight)

By week 2, you will submit your chosen topic with an outline of what you expect to cover. This should address how cultural diversity has evolved, changed, and developed over the last 20 years and how it will continue to develop over the next 10-20 years. Consider the following areas as possible topics:

- One protected group
- Power conflict theories
- Prejudice, stereotypes, and discrimination
- Diversity in the workplace
- Balancing diversity with cultural, group, and/or value conflicts

You may use the following format for the outline to explain your intended points:

Topic Specified – sample outline:

Main Point I Describe the group or topic – power conflict in America

Subpoint A (source cited)

Subpoint B (source cited)

Main Point II Explain the diversity theories, concepts, models that apply to your topic

Subpoint A (source cited)

Subpoint B (source cited)

Main Point III Diversity in the future

Subpoint A (source cited)

Subpoint B (source cited)

Conclusion

The paper will include a title page, abstract, and reference list – none of which count toward the page requirement. The paper will be written in accordance with APA style and should be approximately 10 to 15 pages in length. Use at least 12 scholarly references. Wikipedia is not generally recognized as a scholarly source and therefore should be avoided. Additionally, general print encyclopedias (e.g., World Book; Encyclopedia Britannica) are considered unacceptable in a university environment. You may use the textbook as a source; however, this should be the only book you use as a source. You should rely on journal articles or articles from professional organizations and government reports for your information.

Papers whose topics have not been approved will not be graded. Because papers are due on the last Friday of class, papers submitted after the deadline will not be accepted or graded. Papers will also be judged on the level of analysis (appropriate for graduate level), grammar, spelling, and adherence to these standards. Failure to submit a paper will result in a failing grade for the class.

Research Paper Updates:

You will provide updates on your diversity paper throughout the term. These updates will be part of your final grade.

The assignments should be completed in APA format. Because this is a graduate course, late work will not be accepted except in extreme circumstances. Email me if you need to discuss submitting late work.

APA Tutorial:

Complete the following APA tutorial. The tutorial should take no longer than 45 minutes—and even less if you are already familiar with APA Style. When you have completed the tutorial and to receive credit, in week 2's folder please place a short statement in the APA assignment confirming that you completed and understand how to apply APA style to include correctly citing sources. This will be graded as 100 or zero based upon your statement of completion. In other words, if you do the tutorial, you get a 100. If you ignore the tutorial, you get a zero.

<https://extras.apa.org/apastyle/basics-7e/#/>

Assignment Weighting:

- 35% of grade is based on course room discussions and responses to other students
- 30% of grade is based on diversity presentation paper
- 20% of grade is based on journal article reviews
- 10% of grade is based on updates to your paper project
- 5% of grade is APA tutorial

The University has a standard grade scale:

A = 90-100, B = 80-89, C = 70-79, D = 60-69, F= below 60, W = Withdrawal, WP = withdrew passing, WF = withdrew failing, I = incomplete. An incomplete may be given within the last two weeks of a long term, within the last week of an 8-week session, or within the last two days of a microterm to a student who is passing, but has not completed a term paper, examination, or other required work for reasons beyond the student’s control. A grade of “incomplete” is changed if the work required is completed prior to the last day of the next long 16-week term or 8-week session, unless the instructor designates an earlier date for completion. If the work is not completed by the appropriate date, the I is converted to an F.

Student Grade Appeals: Students shall have protection through orderly procedures against prejudices or capricious academic evaluation. A student who believes that he or she has not been held to realistic academic standards, just evaluation procedures, or appropriate grading, may appeal the final grade given in the course by using the student grade appeal process described in the Academic Catalog. Appeals may not be made for advanced placement examinations or course bypass examinations. Appeals are limited to the final course grade, which may be upheld, raised, or lowered at any stage of the appeal process. Any recommendation to lower a course grade must be submitted through the Vice President of Academic Affairs to the Faculty Assembly Grade Appeals Committee for review and approval. The Faculty Assembly Grade Appeals Committee may instruct that the course grade be upheld, raised, or lowered to a more proper evaluation.
