Attendance Requirements: Virtual Campus

WBUonline (Virtual Campus)

Students are expected to participate in all required instructional activities in their courses. Online courses are no different in this regard; however, participation must be defined in a different manner. Student “attendance” in an online course is defined as active participation in the course as described in the course syllabus. Instructors in online courses are responsible for providing students with clear instructions for how they are required to participate in the course. Additionally, instructors are responsible for incorporating specific instructional activities within their course and will, at a minimum, have weekly mechanisms for documenting student participation. These mechanisms may include, but are not limited to, participating in a weekly discussion board, submitting/completing assignments in Blackboard, or communicating with the instructor. Students aware of necessary absences must inform the professor with as much advance notice as possible in order to make appropriate arrangements. Any student absent 25 percent or more of the online course, i.e., non-participatory during 3 or more weeks of an 11 week term, may receive an F for that course. Instructors may also file a Report of Unsatisfactory Progress for students with excessive non-participation. Any student who has not actively participated in an online class prior to the census date for any given term is considered a “no-show” and will be administratively withdrawn from the class without record. To be counted as actively participating, it is not sufficient to log in and view the course. The student must be submitting work as described in the course syllabus. Additional attendance and participation policies for each course, as defined by the instructor in the course syllabus, are considered a part of the university’s attendance policy.

Statement on Plagiarism and Academic Dishonesty: Wayland Baptist University observes a zero tolerance policy regarding academic dishonesty. Per university policy as described in the academic catalog, all cases of academic dishonesty will be reported and second offenses will result in suspension from the university.

➤ Instructor’s Academic Honesty Statement:

- Any student caught cheating – whether it be cheating on an examination, plagiarism of a published or unpublished work, plagiarism of online materials, inappropriate contact or collaboration with a fellow student, or any other action that prevents the student’s ability to produce honest, original work – will receive a ZERO on that assignment and will not be allowed to redo or retake the assignment. Repeated incidents of cheating will lead to FAILURE OF THE COURSE and could lead to punishment from the university up to and including expulsion.
- I DO NOT TOLERATE cheating or plagiarism.

➤ For more information see WBU Academic Dishonesty Statement

Disability Statement: In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA), it is the policy of Wayland Baptist University that no otherwise qualified person with a disability be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subject to discrimination under any educational program or activity in the university. The Coordinator of Counseling Services serves as the coordinator of students with a disability and should be contacted concerning accommodation requests at (806) 291- 3765. Documentation of a disability must accompany any request for accommodations.

Assignment Descriptions:

- Unit Requirements/Assignments: Units include textbook readings, online lectures, and assessment quizzes. Once a unit closes, access to the online lecture and assessment quizzes will also expire.
 - Unit Assessment Quizzes:
 - Each unit will include various textbook reading assignments and online lectures. After completion of the reading assignment each student is required to complete a quiz based off the text reading and lectures. Quizzes will be multiple choice questions. Students will be allowed to complete the quiz TWO times and the HIGHEST score will count. Students will be given 10 MINUTES to complete each attempt.
 - Students are therefore encouraged to complete the readings assignment and take the quizzes early so that they can improve their score by reviewing the materials.

- For each exam grouping, the instructor will DROP the lowest assessment quiz grade.
- Key Terms & Big Picture Questions:
 - Each Unit includes a list of key terms and big picture questions. These are the review sheets for each unit. The key terms provide students with a word bank of terms that could appear on the identification portion of their exams. The Big Picture Questions are the question bank for each exam.
 - Students should approach each idea with these questions in mind: When is this term historically relevant? Who was involved? What is the term? Why is this term historically significant?
 - Students should approach each big picture question as “main theme questions?” Solid answers to these big picture questions will go beyond the “simple answer” and use details/examples (mainly for the key terms) to support their answers to the Big Picture Questions.
 - Key Terms & Big Picture Questions will only be posted during that unit’s assigned day. It is the student’s responsibility to keep track of those terms and questions to review for each unit exam. They will serve as your review sheets for each exam.
- Due Dates:
 - Each unit is assigned a specific date(s) on the detailed schedule included at the end of the syllabus. Each unit’s assignments are due by 11:59pm (CST) on the last day of the unit.
- Primary Source Reflection Journal: Each week students are required to pick one or two primary sources from the Shi and Tindall Online Primary Source Reader (linked directly in Blackboard) that correspond to the chapter readings from the weekly units and discuss the source and its historical relevance/connection to the week’s units.
 - Each journal entry must provide a summary of the source, analyze the source within its historical context, and reflect on why that source was interesting to the student.
 - Entries must be a minimum of two complete (5 sentence) paragraphs.
 - Entries must provide the official title, author, and date of the primary source at the beginning of the journal entry.
- What I Learned This Week Blog: Each week students will post a short blog (4-6 sentences) explaining what they learned this week about U.S. History. Posts should include what you learned from either the textbook readings or the lectures as well as what you thought was the most interesting thing you learned from your primary source journals. Students are also required to comment on at least ONE other student’s blog for the week.
- #History: For exam grouping, students will create and then share their historical meme and hashtag to get history trending.
 - Assignment
 - Using one of the approved databases (linked on Blackboard), students must choose an historical image, create a historical meme using that image, and write clever hashtag to get the image trending.
 - Students must include the official title and author of the image as well as the url link to the image.
 - Besides creating the historical meme, students are required to write a one to two paragraph explanation of the meme, why they believe their image and hashtag would help history trend on social media.
 - All creations (memes and hashtags) must be appropriate and respectful.

- Discussion
 - Students must also share their meme, hashtag, and explanation in a discussion forum with their fellow students.
 - After sharing their #history meme, students are required to comment on two other students' creations.
 - Responses must be a minimum of three sentences long.
- Monograph Reading Assignments: Students are required to pick one of the books in the recommended books listing, complete, and participate in the following assignments. Each book has a limited number of readers so, be sure to sign up early to ensure you get the book/schedule you want.
 - Analysis
 - Compose a 2-3 page double-spaced book analysis. The analysis should focus on the arguments the author makes about that particular historical period and narrative. Analysis papers should connect those arguments to broader historical themes learned in class.
 - Presentation
 - Using the template from the professor, students are required to record a 5-8 minute presentation of the book. The presentation must cover all of the issues/concerns/questions presented in the template and presentation guideline from the instructor.
 - Discussion
 - Students will be required to participate in an online discussion over their chosen book. Students will share their video presentations to expose their classmates to the other readings in the class and critique each other's presentations and what they learned from the presentations.
- Examinations: Students will be required to show a thorough understanding of the courses' major themes and expected learning outcomes. Exams will push students to think past just the historical facts and understand the implications as well as the application from the themes covered in class. Exams will include one narrative based essay and a critical thinking short answer section. The exam will feature an identification section that will require students to briefly define and explain each term's historical significance. Students will have up to 90 minutes to complete the exam on Blackboard.
- Cumulative Class Review
 - PowerPoint – Students are required to create a PPT slide presentation that addresses a major theme in the course.
 - Peer Review/Critique – Students will post their PPT presentations on the Blackboard Discussion forum and review their fellow students' presentations.
- BONUS:
 - Syllabus/Course Policy Bonus Quiz: Students will be required to take a multiple choice/true-false quiz over the syllabus and course policies. Students will be given 10 minutes. Students will be able to take the quiz TWICE and their highest grade will count. The purpose of the quiz is to ensure students have thoroughly read through the syllabus and understand course policies and the schedule. See the below detailed schedule for quiz date.
 - Introduction Discussion
 - Using Kaltura Media, students must record a 3-5 minute self-introduction video and post it to the bonus discussion forum. In order to receive the bonus points, students must comment back to at least two other students in the discussion board.
 - Thinking Like a Historian
 - Complete the Thinking Like a Historian activities in the textbook for up 20 points each.

- Part 1 (Comparing/Contrasting Secondary Sources) and Part 2 (Using Primary Sources to Evaluate Secondary Sources) must both be completed to be concerned as a completed bonus activity.
- Answers should be submitted in a Microsoft Word document and answers to questions should be written in paragraph form.
- See detailed schedule for due dates
- The instructor may offer additional bonus opportunities to the WHOLE class if she chooses to do so throughout the semester.
- The instructor will NOT round up grades or give out free points at the end of semester.

The University has a standard grade scale:

A = 90-100, B = 80-89, C = 70-79, D = 60-69, F= below 60, W = Withdrawal, WP = withdrew passing, WF = withdrew failing, I = incomplete. An incomplete may be given within the last two weeks of a long term or within the last two days of a microterm to a student who is passing, but has not completed a term paper, examination, or other required work for reasons beyond the student's control. A grade of "incomplete" is changed if the work required is completed prior to the last day of the next long (10 to 15 weeks) term, unless the instructor designates an earlier date for completion. If the work is not completed by the appropriate date, the I is converted to an F.

Student Grade Appeals:

Students shall have protection through orderly procedures against prejudices or capricious academic evaluation. A student who believes that he or she has not been held to realistic academic standards, just evaluation procedures, or appropriate grading, may appeal the final grade given in the course by using the student grade appeal process described in the Academic Catalog. Appeals may not be made for advanced placement examinations or course bypass examinations. Appeals limited to the final course grade, which may be upheld, raised, or lowered at any stage of the appeal process. Any recommendation to lower a course grade must be submitted through the Vice President of Academic Affairs to the Faculty Assembly Grade Appeals Committee for review and approval. The Faculty Assembly Grade Appeals Committee may instruct that the course grade be upheld, raised, or lowered to a more proper evaluation.
