Required Textbook(s) and/or Resource Material:

- Theology for the Community of God, by Stanley J. Grenz; Wm. B. Eerdmans Publishing Company (2000); ISBN-13: 978-0802847553.
- A Little Book for New Theologians: Why and How to Study Theology, by Kelly M. Kopic; IVP Academic (2012); ISBN-13: 978-0830839759

Course Outcome Competencies:

1. Demonstrate knowledge of major doctrinal positions, including identification of relevant biblical passages, chief exponents, and key theological terms.
2. Articulate clearly his/her own personal beliefs in relation to historic Christian doctrines.
3. Identify meaningful ways to relate theology to the ministry of the church.

Attendance Requirements: My expectation is that all students participate in all required instructional activities in their courses. Online courses are no different in this regard; however, the University defines participation in a different manner. Student “attendance” in an online course is defined as active participation in the course as described in the course syllabus. Instructors in online courses are responsible for providing students with clear instructions for how they are required to participate in the course. Additionally, instructors are responsible for incorporating specific instructional activities within their course and will have, at a minimum, weekly mechanisms for documenting student participation.

These mechanisms may include, but are not limited to, participating in a weekly discussion board, submitting assignments in Blackboard, or communicating with the instructor.

PLEASE NOTE: No student who fails to submit ALL assignments will pass this course. If, for example, you completed all assignments except the book analysis and have perfect scores on all of it, you will receive a grade of F. Something is always better than nothing.

Students aware of necessary absences must inform the professor with as much advance notice as possible in order to make appropriate arrangements. Any student absent 25 percent or more of the online course, i.e., non-participatory during 3 or more weeks of an 11 week term, MAY [and likely WILL] receive an F for that course. Instructors may also file a Report of Unsatisfactory Progress (ROUP) for students with excessive non-participation.

Any student who has not actively participated in an online class prior to the census date for any given term is considered a “no-show” and will be administratively withdrawn from the class without record. To be counted as actively participating, it is NOT sufficient simply to log in and view the course. The student must be submitting work as described in the course syllabus. Additional attendance and participation policies for each course, as defined by the instructor in the course syllabus, are considered a part of the university’s attendance policy.

Disability Statement: In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA), it is the policy of Wayland Baptist University that no otherwise qualified person with a disability be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subject to discrimination under any educational program or activity in the university. The Coordinator of Counseling Services serves as the coordinator of students with a disability and should be contacted concerning accommodation requests at (806) 291- 3765. Documentation of a disability must accompany any request for accommodations.

Course Evaluation (Method of Determining Grade)

Of a TOTAL of 415 possible points:

A	415-374 points	I	INCOMPLETE
B	373-332 points	WP	WITHDRAWAL PASSING
C	331-290 points	WF	WITHDRAWAL FAILING
D	289-249 points	W	WITHDRAWAL
F	BELOW 249 points

A grade of incomplete is changed if the deficiency is made up by midterm of the next regular semester; otherwise, it becomes "F". This grade is given only if circumstances beyond the student's control prevented completion of work during the semester enrolled and attendance requirements have been met. A grade of "CR" indicates that credit in semester hours was granted but no grade or grade points were recorded.

Plagiarism: Academic misconduct for which a student is subject to penalty includes all forms of cheating, such as illicit possession of examinations or examination materials, forgery, or plagiarism. Academic plagiarism is the presentation of the work of another as one's own work. It is the student's responsibility to be familiar with penalties associated with plagiarism stated in the catalog.

You can avoid plagiarism for the most part simply by citing your sources. In this class, you will be writing a research paper. Research involves necessarily searching through various sources for the information in your paper. Again, just cite the source and you won't be guilty of plagiarism. More about sources, paper requirements, etc., on the following pages.

GUIDELINES FOR BOOK ANALYSIS

These guidelines are to be used in preparing your analysis of A Little Book for New Theologians: Why and How to Study Theology, by Kelly M. Kopic. Carefully consider each directive as the analysis progresses.

- General:

The paper shall be at least 2,100 but no more than 2,400 words, double-spaced, Times New Roman 12 pt font, based on information found in your reading. For matters of style and form, consult WBU's Digest of Writing or, for more detail, Kate L. Turabian, A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, 7th ed. As religion students, you must follow this format. Remember, APA or MLA will NOT be accepted for any assignment!!

Due date: End of the day, SUNDAY, 15 SEPT

- Substantive:

It should be descriptive in approach that is, describe what you're reading. Focus on the thinking and conclusions of Kopic. As you write, select quotes which adequately characterize what he is trying to present and/or propose about being a theologian. To reference the quote, simply put page numbers in parentheses at the end of the sentence (76).

To be more specific, in Part I of the book, why does Kopic think we should study theology? In Part II, he mentions several characteristics of theology and theologians which is the "how" part of the book. While all are important, which one stands out to you? Detail this characteristic and ONE ADDITIONAL characteristic.

However, a book review means that you interact critically with the author. Where do you think he is right? Wrong? What does he not cover adequately? What does he fail to explain to your satisfaction? Based on previous readings and/or information from other courses, etc., how are his conclusions similar or different?

Because none of us is a theological scholar, you must check out what other reviewers may have written about this book and the author's conclusions. Enter as a footnote and in a bibliography any of these reviews. To find them, visit the Wayland LRC and look for other book reviews. Most scholarly journals contain these sorts of reviews which the LRC will have available.

In your concluding comments, identify at least three, but no more than five, meaningful ways to relate theology to the ministry of the church.

NOTE: WBU has a terrific library with terrific personnel ready to help in any way. Please ask the library about anything you need. They will find and mail a book to you, post-paid with free return! And, they'll email an article to you complete with proper documentation!

INFORMATION FOR DISCUSSION BOARDS

Discussion Boards (DBs) will be provided for nine weeks, every week except the weeks of the midterm and final examinations. At 10 points each, the total points to earn are 90. The grade will be assessed as follows:

- Responded directly to question 4
- Provided substantive comments 4
- Utilized good grammar and style 2

Thoughtful, substantive comments are required for each DB. That means that I will be expecting much, much more than a few sentences and much, much more than a simple, non-reflective answer.

I will also expect that you will compose, read, and re-read your comments for sense, accuracy, spelling, grammar, and matters of style. So, when you compose a response, put some thought into it. Over the years, I've read some which appear to have been written almost at the last minute with little thought. DBs are informal in nature, but I'm expecting some good thinking to go into your comments, all with good form.

What am I looking for? Specifically, I'm looking to see if you ANSWER THE QUESTION(S). That may sound silly, but my experiences over the years have shown me that students often "beat around the bush" and respond to issues but not the question(s).

So, make certain that you answer the question(s) posed in the posted DB. Also, if I offer a response with a question, I'm expecting that you will answer it.

As for word count, I'm expecting more than a few sentences as noted above; to be more specific, let's go with 350 - 400 words. And, yes, I'll count.

I encourage you to make your responses in a timely manner. Any original response made after seven days of the posting, will receive a 0.

INFORMATION FOR EXAMINATIONS

There will be TWO PROCTORED EXAMS—a midterm and a final:

- The midterm exam is available throughout the week of 16 SEPT closing end of the day 22 SEPT and will cover the material from all of the previous lectures.
- The final exam is available throughout the week of 28 OCT closing end of the day 3 NOV and will cover all lecture material since the midterm.

Both exams will have twenty-five objective questions, each worth four points; exams MUST be taken on Blackboard with a proctor.

You will have a total of 90 minutes to complete the exam. Any time over and above 90 minutes will be penalized as follows*:

- 91-95 minutes two points deducted
- 96-100 minutes four points deducted
- 101-105 minutes five points deducted
- 106-110 minutes seven points deducted
- 111 minutes and above ten points deducted

This means, of course, that you will NOT be kicked off Blackboard when the 90-minute time passes. Your time will be simply noted in order to assess any penalties.

Makeup exams will be permitted ONLY for excused absences, and ONLY if you contact me prior to the exam (except in emergency situations).

A STUDY GUIDE will be provided for both exams. Look through your lecture notes and answer those questions as succinctly and objectively as you can prior to the exam. Study those answers.

NO NOTES OR STUDY MATERIALS ARE ALLOWED DURING THE EXAMINATIONS.

PROCTOR REQUIRED!

There is an important aspect of taking exams mentioned directly below; do not overlook it and get it done as soon as you can.

HOW DOES ONE FIND AND SECURE A PROCTOR?

You must secure your own WBU-authorized PROCTOR. In order to do so, please click on the Proctor Request Form and follow the simple instructions.

Please do not delay doing this, and I won't check on you. This time for the exam will come around sooner than you think and you MUST be ready! He who hath ears, let him hear!
