Attendance Requirements

WBUonline

Students are expected to participate in all required instructional activities in their courses. Online courses are no different in this regard; however, participation must be defined in a different manner. Student "attendance" in an online course is defined as active participation in the course as described in the course syllabus. Instructors in online courses are responsible for providing students with clear instructions for how they are required to participate in the course. Additionally, instructors are responsible for incorporating specific instructional activities within their course and will, at a minimum, have weekly mechanisms for documenting student participation. These mechanisms may include, but are not limited to, participating in a weekly discussion board, submitting/completing assignments in Blackboard, or communicating with the instructor. Students aware of necessary absences must inform the professor with as much advance notice as possible in order to make appropriate arrangements. Any student absent 25 percent or more of the online course, i.e., non-participatory during 2 or more weeks of an 8-week session, may receive an F for that course. Instructors may also file a Report of Unsatisfactory Progress for students with excessive non-participation. Any student who has not actively participated in an online class prior to the census date for any given session is considered a "no-show" and will be administratively withdrawn from the class without record. To be counted as actively participating, it is not sufficient to log in and view the course. The student must be submitting work as described in the course syllabus. Additional attendance and participation policies for each course, as defined by the instructor in the course syllabus, are considered a part of the university's attendance policy.

Course Requirements and Grading Criteria

IMPORTANT NOTE: This course requires that you have CengageNowV2 to access and complete online homework, tutorials, eBook and testing. These items are available for you in BlackBoard for this course. ETextbook cost is included at registration. The book involves courseware through Cengage. You are paying for access to the Cengage site where the book and exercises are located. If you OPT-OUT of the eTextbook in the classroom link prior to the WBU census date you must purchase the access elsewhere to participate in the class and will have to make specific arrangements with Cengage to verify your successful addition to this course. Never purchase Cengage codes from a third party (Amazon, etc.) as they will likely be invalid.

- Format: This is an online course, and you are expected to have access to the Internet and possess adequate computer competencies to email assignments as attachments, as well as download and upload files. This course requires homework and discussions on a weekly basis. Announcements will be posted on the site from time to time and you are responsible for reading and adhering to all information in the announcements.
- Discussion Board: The instructor will initiate the discussion board activity. Students are encouraged to exchange ideas through this discussion board. Participation in the discussion board will comprise a large part of your class participation grade and takes the place of live discussion in a classroom setting. You are required to log on no later than four days after the term begins and make at least one quality post. In addition, a minimum of three posts per week are needed in order to earn full credit for class participation each week. Discussion Board participation requires that you post something of value to the discussion and should be more than a mere “I agree” or “good answer”. YOU SHOULD ALWAYS post page number(s) and/or other reference locators to back-up your comments &/or assist your peers in researching your posts. The “attendance and participation” grade will be based upon activity in three areas: achieving the minimum quantity of quality posts made during the week, posting page number(s) and/or other reference locators within your posts, and participation in CengageNOWv2.
- Assignments: A schedule of assignments will be posted to the “Assignment” area of the course in CengageNOWv2 and BlackBoard. Assigned chapters are to be read and assignments completed by 11:55pm, CST, Sunday night (which will be considered the “end” of each academic week). The course is designed to run from Monday morning to 11:55pm the following Sunday so that students will have the weekend to complete any assignments.

- Examinations: There will be a mid-term exam and a final exam. These two exams will count as 75% of your final grade.
- Semester Project: There will be a semester project that will be done in the same CengageNOWv2 program as homework. This project will count for 10% of your semester grade. This project is the “Comprehensive Problem 1” found at the end of Chapter 4 in your textbook. The project is due at the end of the term. Please consult CengageNOWv2 online for further instruction.

A student who believes that he or she has not been held to realistic academic standards, just evaluation procedures, or appropriate grading, may appeal the final grade given in the course by using the student grade appeal process described in the Academic Catalog. Appeals may not be made for advanced placement examinations or course bypass examinations. Appeals are limited to the final course grade, which may be upheld, raised, or lowered at any stage of the appeal process. Any recommendation to lower a course grade must be submitted through the Vice President of Academic Affairs to the Faculty Assembly Grade Appeals Committee for review and approval.
